INSTRUCTORS & ASSISTANTS NEEDED

by Darlene Rak, Obedience & Rally DOT

As we have more students register for our Obedience and Rally classes, we require more instructors to teach or assist with them. It is not possible for me to be solely responsible for recruiting all the instructors or assistants that I need so I am asking for your help. If you think you might want to teach but aren't sure how to go about doing that please let me know. I will team you up with one of our seasoned instructors and they will help guide you. You will start as an assistant at a lower level class with the possibility of becoming a lead instructor as you become more comfortable. There will be plenty of people to help you and it would be greatly appreciated.

If you are one of our current instructors or assistants and see a student or member that you feel would be a good instructor, please talk to them about it. Many people need that personal invitation in order to begin something new. You can also point them out to me and I can talk to them personally.

Teaching or assisting has many advantages:

- ◆ The Obedience and Rally program brings in almost half of the club's income each year. Without instructors we cannot have classes. Without the money that classes bring in, the club probably would not be able to meet its financial obligations.
- ◆ It qualifies for volunteer hours for key privileges or to fulfill Training Privilege requirements.
- ◆ It earns you a $25.00 teaching certificate which allows you to take a class for free, give to someone as a $25.00 off coupon, or use as a $15.00 discount coupon for a trial entry.
- ◆ It is extremely rewarding as you see the students and their dogs progress, have fun, and bond.

COME ONE, COME ALL!!!

by Darlene Rak

INSTRUCTOR WORKSHOP SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 2013

On Saturday, January 19, 2013 from 9am until noon, we will be hosting an Instructor Workshop. The primary focus will be "Dealing with the Difficult Dog". We will be discussing how to recognize a dog that is timid, stressed, over reactive, or potentially aggressive. We will demonstrate methods to help that particular dog and handler get more out of the class.

All instructors and assistants are strongly encouraged to attend. However, you do not have to be an instructor or assistant to participate. Anyone interested is welcome.

I will post the itinerary to the Yahoo group and also on the instructor's bulletin board as soon as it is finalized.

Please bring a snack to share if you are so inclined.

Hope to see you there!!

HOW TO JOIN DDTC YAHOO GROUP

by Sue Peterson

Send an email to ddtc-subscribe@yahogroups.com

Include your name, Yahoo ID, email address, and date you joined the club in the request. This is the best way to be added to the list. My sending you invites to join does not always work. It's a Yahoo thing.

Pet or Competition

By Jill Morstad

Reprinted by permission from the American Belgian Tervuren Club's magazine Tervuren News Tales

Earlier this spring I was talking to another trainer who lives in the Chicago area, a fellow who doesn't compete with his dogs but does call himself a professional dog trainer. He gets defensive on the topic of competition training, and it usually goes something like this:

"The dogs I'm training go back into their pet homes, not obedience competition homes. When training for competition, we must get compliance and precision on a single command. So for competition I train for that. But for the pet dog, those owners want willing attitude and reliability. Neither they nor their dog is counting the number of times we say a word to them." Hmmm.

I confess, I'm with Ian Dunbar on this one. Recently, he suggested that the dichotomy between 'pet' and 'competition' was invented in the 1980s, that it is a false dichotomy, and that it results in a lowering of the bar for pet owners and their dogs...who might actually need MORE training, more precision and more reliable responses than competition trainers do. Why should pet owners have to settle for anything less?

Truth is, it is just as easy to teach a dog to sit on the first command as it is to sit on the 99th, if only because it's not the dog we're training. I'm one of those knuckle-draggers who'll correct an owner for chanting commands. You can keep your riding crop for the horses — I'm slapping my palm at owners who nag.

Owners (being humans and language-users) tend to operate as if they could name a posture, and by naming it, inspire the dog to conjure it up. So they repeat: sit, sit, sit, though nothing about the random assembly of the letters s, i and t into the word sit can conjure up much of anything for a dog. Yes, dogs can learn by association, but I meet a LOT of dogs who think the behavior that is running in large looping circles in the backyard is called COME, because that's what the owner is chanting the entire time the dog is running in large loopy circles.

First, owners want to say language, tone, inflection, etc DOES matter. Then, when they realized they've trained the dog to run in large loopy circles on the word COME (as their tone, inflection, volume, etc changes dramatically with each recitation), they want to argue that language doesn't matter, since the dog should KNOW what they mean because he's 'heard this word before'. <sigh>

I figure that anytime we want to influence a dog's behavior, we gotta first look at our own to see what we're doing to inspire it in the first place.

So, maybe it's better to talk about behaviors (sit, down, come, stay, heel) as postures, like in yoga. If you're a new student of yoga, you don't know what Warrior I is (i.e. you don't know how to arrange your body so as to form the posture, and remember it as muscle memory) and it won't matter how often your yoga instructor chants Warrior I, Warrior I, you're not going to be able to 'do' the posture until someone helps you shape your body into it. THEN they can give it a name: this is called Warrior I.

Ultimately, the yoga instructor teaches you each pose as a muscle memory, and when you've learned all the poses she can cue you to assume the pose by naming it.

Seems to me that's what we're doing — at least in part — when we're training a dog to assume these poses for the first time. Create, THEN name. Always, there is repetition involved, but using language alone won't get the job done. I would walk out of a yoga session where the instructor was shouting meaningless words at me: crocodile, sunflower, plank, pigeon — regardless of her tone or inflection. Dogs, of course, hang in there with us and keep trying no matter how incoherent we are.

With humans, I find that getting them to focus on what they're teaching (what they want the dog to do), what the dog is doing (trying, usually), and how to move the two closer together WITHOUT words is the hardest thing of all.

DDTC LIBRARY

by Sara Eppley, DDTC Librarian

It's been 46 years since Barbara Woodhouse's book "No Bad Dogs" was first published. Those of us who were alive then and now remember "walkies" and her TV series on training dogs. Though we might not agree on everything she taught, we would agree that training with sympathy and understanding to strengthen a dog's security is a worthy goal. DDTC Library has more than one copy of "No Bad Dogs" and some training books published even before Barbara Woodhouse's. At present our library has over 250 books and manuals available for DDTC members.

These books and manuals have been donated by members and/or their friends and include the following categories: Training (various levels and kinds), Breeds, Breeding, Care, Behavior, Fiction (such as mysteries with dogs helping to solve crimes, etc.), History of Dogs, Humor, Photography and Stories (about real dogs). We also have some training DVD's which are available in the box on top of the shelf units. You may check out a book(s) or DVD at any time, just follow directions on the yellow sign—also on the top of the shelves. Keep the book or DVD for 6-8 weeks or as long as you need it. Just as we have old books and new books about dogs we also have one of the latest books as a donation from the publisher: Susan Orlean's "Rin Tin Tin."

I hope you have found and will find the DDTC Library helpful to you. Here are some ideas for using the library from members: "While I'm waiting for ring time, I take a book from the shelf and read a bit, then put it back and I've learned something." and "I like the various books to use for specific training problems." Training our dogs is a great adventure with many rewards. DDTC Library is there to be of help in this adventure.

As of this fall, DDTC Library will no longer take magazines as donations. Thank you for all the excellent magazines that have been donated in the past, but many magazines are now available online, and we found those donated were not often being used.

Thanks to Sue Peterson for donating the needed shelves. Also many thanks to all of you who have donated such wonderful, helpful and beautiful books and manuals to make the club library a

BRAGS & ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Submitted by Suzy Lundy

From Carol "KC" Artley—My borzoi Maverick finished his rally excellent title and his Grand Champion title. Borzoi Beth, finished her Championship, rally advanced title and rally excellent title. Beth also earned points in lure coursing, and has her first leg towards her RAE title. My young white borzoi Clint finished his rally novice title, and earned points in conformation and lure coursing. My sheltie Kyle finished his rally advanced title and has 1 leg towards his rally excellent title. Also, I have a new sheltie puppy, James, who is currently in the intermediate obedience class.

It was good to see Dave Maurer, who came all the way from New Hampshire, for our trials and was rewarded with a High In Trial, and several UDX legs. Anita Eisthen showed her labs and finished a UDX3 on Aspen and a UD on Bonnie. Vicki Ventura, an experienced rally exhibitor, finally tried obedience Novice A, and got 3 Qs on her standard poodle, Confetti. Sherry Shaffer earned a 194 in Novice B on her sheltie. Suzy Lundy earned 2 Qs in Novice B on a Doberman. Marcia Richley earned a 197 in Open B & a 194 in Utility B, at the one trial she showed her golden retriever at. Karol Paulus showed in 2 trials with her briard and got 2 UDX legs with high scores. Debbie Klein tried Beginners Novice A, for the first time, and got a "Q" with her little white dog. Vicki Ventura got a Q on standard poodle Magic in beginners novice B. Denise Gordon got a Q on her Canaan Dog in Beginners Novice B. Norma Woolf got a Q on her Canaan Dog in Beginners Novice B. Cathy Thompson showed her mini wire dachshund in beginners novice B, earning scores of 198 1/2, 199 1/2 and 193 1/2. Sue Wallace earned 2 legs on her corgi in beginners novice B. Alice Sowders earned Qs on both her whippet in beginners novice B. ★

Feisty

From Wende Call—Fiesty my sweetie-girlie had some really great runs last weekend & this in AKC agility earning 5 Q's total- for 1 DBL Q- 44 MACH points, 1 3rd & 1 4th placement (I am thrilled to have place with some of these amazing fast, much more experienced running dogs...WOOHOO). Half way there & loving every minute of it. We are off for a few weeks for the Holidays but I am counting down til we run together again. Run safe...run fast...&&&& praying to get those DBL Q's :)

(This brag submitted by Suzy Lundy) This has been a great fall for Wende Call! Fiesty -Doberman extraordinaire- New MX and MXJ. Pinkus -Daughter of Fiesty- New Champion! Matty -Australian Shepherd- New CDX. ★

From Trish Clute—This weekend Molly and I went to the Queen City trials to exhibit in Open A obedience. Saturday was not too good. Molly followed me in on the Drop on Recall, and then decided to lie down on the Long Sit. But yesterday, she got it together. We got our second leg toward our CDX. Thank you to all the folks from Gem City and DDTC who helped and encouraged me at the trial yesterday morning! Molly is now an official UNJ...United Novice Jumper. I believe she is the first (maybe second) dog from DDTC to have a title in Dock Jumping! (Pam Murn's Nickie got one but I am not sure if Pam was a member then.) Now to get that final CDX leg and her Dock Jumping Championship! UNJ U-CD Tav-A-Mac Good Golly Ms Molly CD, RE.

Molly qualified in Open A today for first place (194) and to complete her CDX title!!!! ★

From Anita Eisthen—I am proud to announce that my girl Aspen has now earned the Obedience Trial Champion (OTCh) title! She is my first OTCh. She is now, officially: OTCh Sunshine's Hope MD Cotton UDX3 OM6 JH RAE NA OAJ NAP NJP. The Road to an OTCh can be a long one, with successes, "almosts", frustrations and setbacks. It is a road that cannot possibly be traveled alone. It is not the accomplishment of one handler; rather it is an accomplishment of many. ★

From Becky Garltic and UCD Merrygold's Foolish Pleasure—Logan and I won a run-off for a fourth place finish at Queen City yesterday. Today we took first place with a score of 197. I hope to be able to move on to Open soon, but we have quite a bit of polishing to do!

Logan and I competed last weekend at the UKC trial at Gem City. We Q'd in all four trials receiving scores in the 190's. He cleared the high jump w/o stuttering or showing fear! Mary Jo won two High In Trials with a score of 200 with her wild man Jet to earn their UCD. Tami Woodrow finished her UCD with Cooper and went on to Open. ★

From Sherri Heizer—Congratulations to Patty Steele-Scott and Berree on their PACH today! They were an awesome team! Also, we had a great showing from all of our other DDTC club members. Taree and I got a double Q with a 3rd place and 19 mach pts. in our Standard run and another Q with only 2 mach pts. in our jumpers class. There were lots of Qs flying around a few I can remember are Kandy & Mach Z, Terry McCarty and all 3 of her dog, Vicki Head with Indy and Apollo, Ken Kistler with Penny, Layla and Jim, Wendy Call & Fiesty, Brittany Wical & Nitro got 3 Qs in Novice Standard, Jumpers and Fast class, Debbie Brown and Maggie got 2 Qs, Ken with Keile got 2 Qs. I am sure I have missed a few, but a big Congrats to everyone today. ★

From Rhonda Holzhauer—Showed this weekend at QCDDTC, almost Q'd on Saturday, made up for it today Q'd in Excellent A JWW Preferred and finished our title and Q'd in Excellent standard, need one more Q :) We are finally clicking as a team, still need work. ★

From Jessarae Papillons—Today at Ann Arbor Kennel Club in Monroe, MI, Madison (Jessarae's NYC Style,NAJ) got a 5 point major and best of winners!!! It was a Papillon Club of America supported entry, defeating 4 dogs and 15 bitches! Thanks to judge,Charlotte Patterson. In a total of a month, she has won 3 of 5 shows. I am so proud of her!

Today in Lebanon, Indiana, Madison finished her AKC championship with 2 points under a long time papillon breeder judge, Arlene Czech!!! Madison is my fourth champion and second generation. She got both her majors within two months of limited showing, one a PCA supported entry show and the other by going best of opposite over two champions! She has also won three weekends in a row She is now, CH Jessarae's NYC Style NAJ. ★

From Sandy Kistler—I never thought I would ever have any kind of brag in this discipline. But, I did get 2 Q's in Novice B from Penny. I have to say that this is a whole lot harder than it looks. I hope Brownie was watching, and I am sure he had his hand in what his girl did on Sunday to qualify....:D Thank you to all of the members who had some advice and who helped with some training. DDTC rocks.....:)

Penny and I have just returned home from a busy weekend of Novice B Obedience. She received her CD on Friday with a very respectful 187.5. She was very pleased! On Saturday, we showed under Anita. Penny is positive that the 3 minute stay portion of her program said to 'sit'. So she did. It was the most exquisite 3 minute sit stay in the history of that discipline. Anita did not think so! Humph..... On Sunday we showed under another judge who did not understand that Penny runs these things her way! She did manage to surprise me with some very creative heeling techniques. I argued on her behalf for some creative or style points, but to no avail! So she gave this judge her best imitation of the middle finger, when she decided she was very tired during that arduous 1 minute sit stay, so she lied down. Good for her for standing up for what she believes in. less to say, she is exhausted and needs a nap! You go girl...

A lot of us missed the last JWW run that Ken had with Layla. After struggling and unable to Q her in anything for months.... They finally broke the elusive spell they were under and qualified with a second place finish on a very competitive 24" class. I wonder when they will get their first points. I predict next summer!!!! Great job you two. ☆

From Suzy & Dick Lundy—Our precious "Fifi" won the 2012 Doberman National Specialty for third year in a row. This has never been done before, so Fifi made Doberman History. Thanks for all your support and a big cheer to all fifians. We are looking forward to Westminster 2013. ☆

From Darlene Rak—Just wanted everyone to know that Charlene Murphy and Ollie (Golden Retriever) qualified in Utility A today with a 4th place. Charlene is on cloud nine to say the least. HUGE CONGRATS to both of them :)

After 15 years of not competing I finally got back into the ring this last weekend. I especially want to thank Suzy Lundy for her help in getting Emma and I ready and to multiple club members who pushed me into doing it. Thank you also to everyone else that has been very supportive to me and Emma. Once I got over my nervousness it was actually fun showing again! Emma did well, scoring over 191 all three trials and earning a 2nd, 4th, and then 1st place to earn her CD.

Thank you Diane and Sue Wallace, KC Artley, Sue Young, and all the other wonderful people at DDTC that worked so very hard on this trial. You helped to make my comeback to competition a great experience! ☆

From Patty Steele-Scott—Most of our MACH dogs who continue to show after getting their MACH are sound and healthy enough to continue showing at their full height. Unfortunately, Beree and I weren't so lucky. With her spondylitis (I can't spell it correctly, but easier known as arthritis in her spine), it was hard for us to make course time. Jumping wasn't that much of an issue – but when the spine quits flexing weave poles slow down. Is it painful – no – not once the back fuses – but back flexibility does hamper movement. Be careful about buying a dog with a low tail set. Never realized that this would be an issue, but now I know. At any rate – we moved to the preferred height to gain 5 more seconds of course time. Since she turned gray so early, it really looks like I am running an older dog than what I am.

Thanks to all of you who kept me going when I kept thinking about quitting. Mostly I thank the Princess Beree Jean. Preacher was a fantastic agility dog, but Beree and I are a team. She took me places I have never been before.

Thank you to Kandy & Rob for pushing, Lynn for pushing me, and all of my past instructors. People gave up trying to change my handling style with Beree including Susan Crank because clearly it was working for us. Thank you Lynn and Vicki for Beree's incredible cake and the Princess bar. I wasn't expecting either – I was just going to Kroger's. That cake was really too pretty to cut. I did have 4 bites of it. The rest of my piece went to the one who really deserved it. Frankly it was just about all her effort. My effort was to write the checks and try and run in the ring with her. Now that I can run, we are leaving the agility venue and getting the finishing touches for our CDX.

An odd unexpected thank you to Judge Terry Brown. He and I were talking about Beree last October in Gem's City's score table room. He said that in his experience the only thing that really helped spondylitis was acupuncture. I never would have thought of it. So thanks to him, Dr. Julie, and of course Jean Pavl. Yep – I abbreviated that last name. Well –now that I think about thanks to Doug also. Aspen's invitation to the National Obedience Invitational arrived today! This event will take place December 15-16 in Orlando, Florida in conjunction with the AKC/Eukanuba National Championship (conformation) event. ☆

From Elaine Stoermer—As most of you are aware, Lucy has DM - degenerative myelopathy. It has progressed over the year from drunken sailor/crossed feet stage, to "Igor" stage (dragging feet) to "seal/walrus" stag (dragging the rear). She has adjusted to the changes and accepted my carrying her and the use of a sling/rear harness. She went down completely in the rear in June and we ordered the cart. Lucy is now at the "Hot Wheels" stage and zoomed around Gem's building on Monday. She did some heeling, backing up (it's easy except she needs a rear view mirror) and did a couple dumbbell retrieves. Yes, go outs and scent articles will be next. Unfortunately, she cannot roll over when in the cart, but that may be her warm-up before getting in it. Lucy does not think it is politically correct to refer to her cart as a wheelchair as she thinks it has some canine negative connotations. She prefers the term "cart" or "HOT WHEELS" and will accept being referred to as "Lucy Andretti". I haven't figure out how the spoiler will attach or how many Rally/Corgi decals I can get on it. No, it is not painted purple. Yet. And, she already has goggles. ☆

From Tami Woodrow—I've got to brag on my Golden Retriever Boy, UCD Glamour's Go the Distance CD, RN (Cooper) and Meaghan Combs in the Sunday Crossroads Canine Club UKC Conformation Shows. Meagan and Cooper started off by going Altered Best in Show in show one, then went on to get Best Junior in show two and topped it all off by going Altered Reserve Best in Show in Show two. Meaghan (Cooper's co-owner) always presents Cooper (and Piper too!) to their very best. So proud of both of them! ☆

OBEDIENCE & RALLY DIRECTOR OF TRAINING REPORT—Fall/Winter 2012

by Darlene Rak

The last couple of sessions have shown a large increase in registrations with almost 150 students for each of the Early and Late Fall sessions. Before that we were consistently running around 100 students each session. I want to thank everyone that volunteers to help with our Obedience and Rally class program. I use approximately 40 to 45 instructors and assistants each session. Too many to list individually but you know who you are. Plus Richard Eppley posts any and all changes to the website. Terry McCarty handles most of the phone calls. Corky Andrews does our registrations, and then there is also the cleaning crew and the training committee. I couldn't do it without you and I thank you all very much.

Judy Collopy has taken over Brownie's Barracks. If you have questions, concerns, or suggestions please contact Judy. There is a list posted on the Barracks of people that have keys and can help you purchase items. Thank you Judy for taking this over.

Our first CGC/TDI Prep Class went very well. We had three or four teams that were evaluated by a TDI tester. Everyone passed. Kelly Kirsch is in charge of this very worthwhile program and is doing a great job with this. She is busy lining up facilities to go visit. If you wish to participate please contact Kelly. Thank you Kelly!

Our first session of the new year will begin January 7, 8, & 9, 2013. I will definitely need instructors for this session. The Winter session is the most difficult to get instructors and assistants. If you can help please email me.

An Instructor's Workshop is scheduled for Saturday, January 19, 2013. The focus will be "Working with the Difficult Dog". We will talk about fearful, reactive, and aggressive dogs, plus more. Watch the yahoo group for more details and I will also post it to the instructor's board once the itinerary is finalized.

Hello everyone! Please keep up the good work on keeping me informed of Pet Sympathy & Sunshine concerns. Everyone is doing an excellent job of letting me know about what is going on with our club members. THANKS!! I appreciate it. Members thank me and tell me that they really appreciate the cards and also the flowers (when we send them). The cards and flowers really do help cheer up our club members; they add a boost to a person's day by letting them know that we club members really do care about them and their beloved pets. If you have a Pet Sympathy/Sunshine concern please do NOT e-mail the Yahoo list as I'm not on there ..... you can just e-mail me directly. Thanks!
